DEBT RESOLVE FILES PATENT INFRINGEMENT LAWSUIT Company seeks injunction against and damages from Apollo Enterprise Solutions, LLC

WHITE PLAINS, NY, January 9, 2007 – Debt Resolve, Inc. (AMEX: DRV) announced today that it has filed a patent infringement lawsuit against Apollo Enterprise Solutions, LLC in the U.S. District Court, District of New Jersey. The lawsuit alleges infringement of United States Patent Nos. 6,330,551, and 6,954,741, both entitled Computerized Dispute Resolution System and Method. Debt Resolve has exclusive rights under both patents with respect to web-based consumer debt collections worldwide.

A similar lawsuit has recently been successfully asserted by Cybersettle, Inc., which has exclusive rights relating to insurance disputes, in Cybersettle, Inc. v. National Arbitration Forum, Inc., D.N.J., Case No. 3:04-C.V.-04744 (MLC).

The defendant, Apollo Enterprise Solutions, LLC, alleges that it has developed an online system for the collection of consumer debt which allows debtors to, among other things, negotiate a settlement in real-time that may be accepted by Apollo's computerized system based on rules defined by the creditor. This online method of dispute resolution is protected by the Debt Resolve patent which has been granted in the United States and numerous other countries, including the United Kingdom.

Debt Resolve's complaint seeks a permanent injunction and damages for the loss of profits and royalties against Apollo, and together with an allegation that Apollo's infringement is willful, trebled damages and attorney's fees and expenses.

James Burchetta, Debt Resolve Chairman and CEO said: "Debt Resolve intends to vigorously defend its patent rights and intellectual property against any infringer." Debt Resolve is represented by Albert L. Jacobs Jr. and Daniel A. Ladow of the New York office of the Greenberg Traurig, LLP law firm.
