Press Release

DEBT RESOLVE GRANTED ITS FOURTH US PATENT, NO. 7,249,114
For online payment processing, online debt consolidation, and balance transfer;
Expected to have widespread implications in the collection industry

White Plains, New York (September 4, 2007) – Debt Resolve, Inc. (AMEX: DRV), announced today that U.S. Patent No. 7,249,114 ('114 Patent) dated July 24, 2007, was issued, under which Debt Resolve has an exclusive non-revocable worldwide license for the settlement of consumer debt. This patent follows three other historic patents for online dispute resolution including U.S. Patent – No. 6,330,551 dated December 11, 2001, U.S. Patent – No. 6,850,918 dated February 1, 2005, and U.S. Patent – No. 6,594,741 dated October 11, 2005 and further extends Debt Resolve's patent protection in online debt collection.

The '114 Patent, on its own or taken together with the previously issued patents, grants Debt Resolve the method and system by which the creditor may offer multiple payment options to a debtor (including PayPal, Western Union, credit cards, checks, electronic funds transfer, debit cards, or balance transfer cards); the ability to automatically make an immediate payment or initiate an immediate transfer of the settlement payment online by use of a credit / debit / charge / entertainment card or smart card, stored value card, online creditable purse or module, or another online-accessible way; and a process by which a debtor can settle and pay with multiple creditors during a given session utilizing the DebtResolve system in one or multiple rounds which may include a power round or a facilitation message.

Co-Chairman and CEO James Burchetta of Debt Resolve stated: "The '114 Patent, when combined with the DebtResolve online dispute auction settlement system, now provides patent protection for settlement and settlement payments online. We are delighted that the U.S. Patent Office has granted us this fourth patent which further strengthens our intellectual property and is a barrier to entry to others in the online settlement of debt."
